

Bosco Students Motivational Services

The study of various different youth groups, high school students at career camps, seminars and interactions, we have realized the youth of today are not equipped to face the challenges of fast changing environment and impact of media and globalization. They are not prepared to take responsibility. They lack leadership, motivation, commitment, direction and follow up. The schools and colleges are not equipped to give them orientation and life coping skills to manage life. It's in this context BSMS Team play a vital role in preparing the youth for a better tomorrow through the motivational services facilitating change in the lives of the students.

Scope of Work
